LEAVING A LEGACY

"Don't Forget Your Roots" — a phrase posted in the Lancer Softball shed. From the classroom to the football field, the stage to the art room, North Scott is a community that allows students to plant their roots. The excellence of North Scott students has garnered statewide and national recognition: advancing to the state volleyball tournament for the first time in seven years, sharing stories of the past at the National History Day competition in Washington D.C., recognizing the first North Scott Iowa All State Orchestra member, placing second in the state softball tournament, winning a trapshooting state title. As generations move onward, the legacy of excellence is passed from parents and teachers to students. North Scott alumni haven't forgotten their roots. Amongst published authors and D1 athletes, North Scott High School is a home: providing the education and training possible to excel in academics, athletics, and the arts. In its 62nd year, North Scott High School students and alumni continue to plant their roots to affect the community in many ways, making a mark and leaving a legacy. Reflect on the past school year and the impact you have made. What is your legacy?

Memories of Tara Cunningham

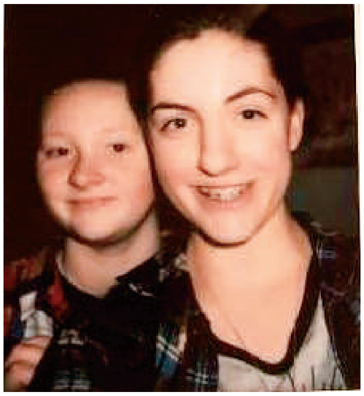
"Tara was one of the most cheerful people I knew. Her happiness and dorkiness were contagious. She never cared about what others thought, and just did what made her and her friends happy. She barely ever went without smiling, and her laughter could always be heard throughout the room. Her talent and design were beyond amazing and unique. Her loved ones won't go a day without thinking about her." - Allison Stick-Mueller



"I will always remember her as the bright energetic soul that she was. Tara always seemed happy and always treated everyone with respect and kindness. I always enjoyed sharing books and art ideas with her and she was always such a creative person. She was beyond amazing and we will always miss her and always love her. She will always have a special place in all of our hearts." - Halea Osborn

"I remember Tara for being this energetic spirit that's so creative, funny, and a joy to be around. She was so passionate about anything that came her way and compassionate to her friends. She was always there for me when I needed her, she always made me laugh, and always getting me off topic. I always remember the conversations her and I had about our favorite tv shows. I will always remember her laugh and her smile." - Chloe Brookhart

The end of the school year brought a legacy for staff members to follow. With the retirement of Kathi Washam and Frank Wood North Scott High School lost two staff members who played a significant role in students' lives for decades. Kathi Washam served as the Activities Secretary for 27 years, sending the Daily Announcements, greeting students with a smile in the front office, and engaging with the community at games and activities. Frank Wood worked as Athletic Director in 1973, helping to build girls atheltics programs at North Scott and coaching the first North Scott girls basketball team to advance to state in 1985. After leaving to pursue other adminstrative positions, Mr. Wood came back to North Scott in 1999, motivated by his family and the community of North Scott. In 2004, Mr. Wood served as a State Senator, advocating for education on the state level. Frank Wood and Kathi Washam both agree that the students have kept them young, but that it's a time in their life where it feels right to move on from North Scott High School. Their service to the North Scott community will be cherished by the many lives they touched.

FALL

Jenna Willet, 12, Ty Anderson, 12

After a warm summer, North Scott High School students settled into their new classes. U.S. History student artistically represented the 1920s, Composition students were tasked with exploring twenty sources for an annotated bibliography, and Pre Calc students studied all aspects of functions. As the leaves changed and the air grew colder, students gathered at Lancer Stadium to cheer on the football team and crowded into the Pit the support the State qualifying volleyball team. The community celebrated a festive homecoming week while Lancer Productions rehearsed for Peter and the Starcatcher. Music students prepared for first concerts and All State auditions while National History Day students began choosing topics to study for the year. The legacy of 2019-2020 North Scott High School students was just beginning.

Business Trip

Every fall, when the weather gets colder, the Lancers bring the heat! This year the team had one dream: to finally make it to the UNI Dome. With an energetic cheer team, a roaring student section, abundant support from the community, and the team's shared desire, making it to state seemed possible. The Lancers came very close to their goal, leaving a legacy for teams to follow. This year also included a new tradition of referring to games as "business trips," with team members suiting up for school to get into the right headspace for games. The Class of 2020 has been playing together since before high school, bringing many memories and new friendships. With graduation, comes the divide of a family, but exciting opportunities for the athletes as they move on to college, and some to become Division 1 athletes. No matter what the future holds, the team will forever have a family at North Scott High School. By: Khloe Beitzel ,12

Teagan Goodney, 12, has become the first girl in North Scott Lancer History to score a varisty touchdown. She has been involved in football since she was young, and stuck with the boys throughout. She describes football as "one of the best things that happened to me throughout my life! I am very thankful for my opportunity to play the sport I love the most." This fall, Teagan was given the opportunity to score a Lancer touchdown and says "words can't even explain how great it felt! I am so honored to have accomplished such a cool mark in history."

Play By Play

The JV and Freshman football teams had a very competitive season. The freshman team had their first experiences with high school teams and coaches, learning new plays, and skills, while becoming closer as a team. For the first time, students were a part of team made up a different grade levels. The new team members formed connections, played their best, and had a very successful season. The North Scott JV Football team won their first game against Iowa City West by an astounding 45 points, setting a president for the rest of the season. The team went on to beat Davenport Central, 35-0, Western Dubuque, 32-6, DeWitt, 47-0, Iowa City Liberty, 55-6, Clear Creek Amana, 41-8, and Davenport Assumption 33-14. Though the team's third game against Pleasant Valley was close and the team fell short during overtime, losing by just one touchdown, they did not let this define the rest of their season. In taking each game play by play, both the Freshman and JV teams were able to learn from their coaches and fellow players for a successful season.

NSDT competes in many local competitions during State season to prepare for the Iowa State Dance Team Championships in December.)

Shakin' Up Success

Megan Sacia, 11

The North Scott Dance Team started off an exciting and successful season at the Dance Team Union Summer Camp--bonding, performing, and learning. During the summer, the team spent practices preparing dances to share their spirit at Lancer Football Games. The North Scott Dance Team then began preparing for the ISDTA State Competition. To prepare, NSDT performed at competitions throughout the season. At the University of Iowa Dance Team Competition, the Silver Shakers placed first in jazz, second in pom, and third in lyrical. State soloists Abby Lundvall, Hannah Bain, Megan Sacia, Olivia Wessel, and Carolyn Keppy competed individually at the ISDTA Solo Competition, with the support of their team and coaches. At the Stack the Stands Dance Team Competition in Cedar Rapids, the team placed first in pom, jazz, and lyrical, received a judges choice award for jazz, and the Spirit Award for sportsmanship. The team also traveled to the Dance Team Union Compeition, placing first in lyrical, and third in pom and jazz. The Silver Shakes closed off the season with the long awaited state competition where they showed off the season's hard work by performing their best. With a new group of freshman, a closer team bond, and a series of accomplishments, the North Scott Dance team left a legacy with the 2019-2020 season.

North Scott's football cheer team got a new look this season! Eleven brand new seniors joined the team, making it one of the largest varsity teams in North Scott history. Coach Sarah Hansel said, "the team definitely had the most seniors it's ever had." Before the start of the season, the team traveled to the UCA Cheer Camp at the Wisconsin Dells, where they learned about stunting, cheering, and bringing positivity to the school. Junior Madison Ahrens and senior Jenna Willet were selected to be All-American cheerleaders. As the team practiced over the summer, they grew much closer, even through difficult times. Madison Ahrens, Varsity Co-Captain, said, "it was kind of stressful at times, teaching all of the new people things and getting respect, but overall it was really fun because I got to know everyone better." Despite some stress, the team had fun spending time together during early morning practices and warming up on the track before games. The cheerleaders worked together to bring life to football games by cheering on the Lancers under the Friday night lights.

"Out, Down Up!" The Lancer Marching Band had another sucessful season, filling the statuim with upbeat melodies. The band played not only on the field, but in the North Scott hallways, echoing throughout the building on Friday home games. The drumline continued to hype up students by marching through the halls for state send offs and Lancer Production's performances. The marching band was led by three amazing students: Seth Schrock, Haley Howes, and Abi Jensen. The drum majors dedicated their time outside of band to learning the new skill of conducting, and they served as leaders for the entire band. These students were not alone in their leadership, Chris Tague, kept the band on step as the lead snare drum during rehersals and performances. Other members of the drumline also displayed their talents throughout the season. George Behnke, 11, showed the Lancer Crowd his skills on the bells during "Africa" by Toto on the first Lancer home game. Seniors Nicole Blodig, Alex Gickler, Haley Howes, Maddie Heppe, Megan Hall, Ryan Mentzer, Nathan Tague, Chris Tague, Trevor Henry, Seth Schrock and Cameron LaPage, left their mark on the band in their final marching band season. Next year, incoming freshman and current band members will carry on the legacy the seniors have left.

LANCER

"Go Lancers!" The sound of cheering can be heard throughout the North Scott community. The student section is often called the Lancer Crowd, where the energy is nonstop. Students constantly cheer for their fellow classmates in the stands and have the most fun doing so. Garrett Bowe, 12, said, "Being in the crowd is so fun because there's so much opportunity to have a good time. You get to watch games, cheer for the lancers, heckle the enemy, dress up for the themes, and enjoy the tailgates." Smiles, laughs, and memories are shared between students at every game. Whether it be at Lancer Stadium for football or track and field, the Pit for basketball or wrestling, or any other occasion, the Lancers bring the hype.

Garrett Bowe also explained, "The thing I like the most is the dynamic we bring to the games. With all the dress up themes and cheers we bring to the table, I feel that everyone is connected as one big team." Whether you're on the field or in the stands, there's no denying that the Lancers have the best spirit!

Any Time Is Tee Time

This year the boy's golf team celebrated a very successful season. Junior Liam Latham stated, "The beginning of the year started off rough, but we came through and finished the season strong." Senior Luke Haedt spent all four years of his high school career on the golf team. Haedt added, "I had a great experience with golf over these past four years. I will never forget the memories made in high school golf. The things I will remember most from golf are all the days spent golfing with the boys, the car rides to and from the meets, and the intense best ball matches we had." The team was coached by Mr. Zeb Hubner and Mr. Collin Ellis and was made up of a wide variety of students in different classes. Seniors included, Cael Bredar, Luke Haedt, and Ben Evitts. These three golfers have dedicated all 4 years of their high school career to this sport, "putting" them in a position for success.

May The Course Be With You

"Learn to be comfortable being uncomfortable." This is a saying instilled in the minds and hearts of the North Scott Cross Country team. The team made it a priority to live by this motto throughout the season and to dedicate time outside of practice to learn about leadership and positivity. During the summer, the team retreated to the mountains of Colorado which helped the team to be "closer this season than we ever have been" according to Abbi Lafrenz, 12. Practices throughout the season allowed the team's bond to continue to strengthen. Zoe Warm, 12, shared her favorite memory: "The Crow Creek meet got cancelled, but that didn't stop us from running down muddy hills and getting breakfast with everyone after." Rain or shine, the team always found ways to express their love for the sport and each other. Abbi Lafrenz added, "we were able to work with each other very well. The team had a good mix of experience and new talent which formed good chemistry and helped us to be successful." The connection of the team was easily seen on the course and through this year's successful season. The graduating seniors hope to leave a legacy for teams to follow. Lafrenz hopes that future runners "cherish the time you have with the team: all the good meets and bad, good practices and bad. One day you'll wake up as that senior wishing they could do it all over again, just like I did." The support shown from the North Scott Cross Country coaches and fellow team members has helped to create one of the strongest teams in North Scott history. By Corynna Hugunin & Jenna Willet, 12

All Out
All In

The saying, "all out, all in", describes the North Scott Volleyball team perfectly. Whether it be on the sidelines or playing on the court, everyone went all out putting in maximum effort, and everyone was all in, completely dedicated to the sport. The importance of this phrase was shown especially when the team punched their ticket to state for the first time in seven years. The state tournament was nothing new for senior, Rachel Anderson. Rachel previously attended state basketball, and state softball, all within one year. She says, "It was very exciting to attend state in all three of my sports. They were some of the best experiences of my life. I have made so many memories with all of my teammates, and I will never forget them. I am really excited to see what the future holds for these sports at North Scott." During their trip to state, the team fell short during the quater final to the Marion Indians. However, this loss did not define the team. They stayed true to their committment to the team and each other. All out, all in. By Ryann Cheek, 11

Battling Our Way to Victory!

During homecoming week, students showed tons of school spirit by participating in powder puff, cheering on the team and playing the school anthem. All the girls who participated in powder puff played hard, but the seniors came out on top, which was a fantastic way to ensure their class legacy stays with the school for years to come.

The homecoming game, on October 4, was a chilly night packed with a ton of Lancer spirit. Parents and students alike came to watch the Lancer varsity football team dominate the field. Throughout the game loads of Lancer pride was eagerly expressed from the student section as they cheered on their team. Enthusiastic Lancer spirit was also shown through the cheerleaders and marching band as their energy kept high spirits during the cold weather.The exciting night came to a conclusion as the Lancer team won the game, securing their legacy for years to come.

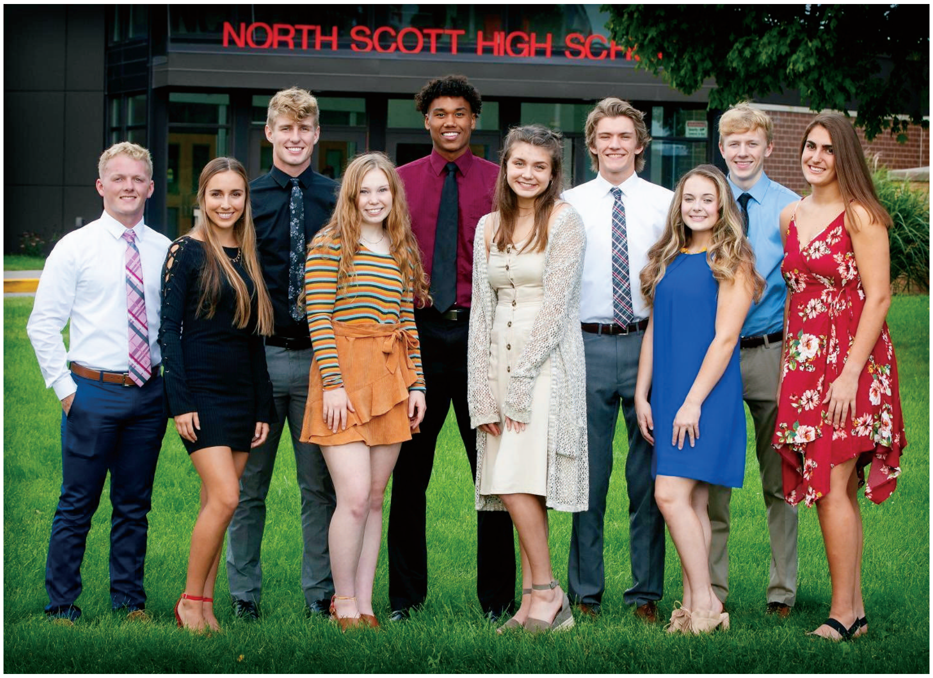
Get In The Spirit!

The 2019 Homecoming Week brought excitement to students and teachers as they prepared for the upcoming weekend. The week kicked off with decorated hallways and a pep aud at Lancer Stadium on Monday. Students filled the bleachers wearing their class colors and watched a video about what it means to be a Lancer, made by Coach Stew. Students played against each other in a quick game on the football field and the winning class, the sophomores, played against the staff. After the sophomores were crowned the winners, it was time to announce the 2019 Homecoming Court. Grace Boffeli, Paige Durant, Lauren Hanssen, Grace Sampson, and Jenna Willet for girls; Quentin Allison, Ty Anderson, Ben Belken, Garrett Bowe, and Aiden Haack for boys. The rest of the week was celebrated with volleyball on Monday, freshmen football on Tuesday, a parade and coronation on Thursday, a Lancer win on Friday and finally, the homecoming dance on Saturday. By Mikayla Carlton, 12



Kara Rohlf, 11, waves to the community on the winning float in the student division. First place was taken by Lancer Productions with their pirate ship themed parade float to advertise their fall show, Peter and the Starcatcher.

And It Was
Star Stuff!

Lancer Productions kicked off their season with Peter and the Starcatcher. The children's show brought fun and laughter to the North Scott Auditorium as they showcased how the story of Peter Pan became Peter Pan. The cast was mostly made up of underclassmen who made their theatre debut one to remember. Aunica Jecks, 9, who played a pirate, said "At first, the rehearsals were kind of all over the place but soon we figured out what to do and how to be efficient and effective. Rehearsals were really fun and I think we all bonded with eachother, especially when we all went out to dinner after performances." Aunica described her favorite part as learning the mermaid dance and seeing all of the different costumes. When asked what his favorite scene was, Ross Willerth, 10, who played Black Stache, said "My favorite scene was probably the bed time story scene where Peter, Prentiss, Teddy, and Molly were captured by Fighting Prawn and Hawking Clam. I thought all of the jokes landed perfectly and it always made me laugh." Ross said he loved working with the cast and crew, especially Ben Boddicker. The cast spent most of their rehearsal time sharing laughs over the cat puppet Stewart, Black Stache's fake hand, and working as hard as possible to make Peter and the Starcatcher a show to remember. The fall season is important for many students to put in their best efforts to kickstart a new opportunity for higher academic excellence. The fall season is full of lots of studying and new material in new classes. Many students choose to go about their studies in different ways. Some students choose to get their schoolwork done in the hallways, the lunchroom or library. Most students find it relatively quiet and peaceful compared to the typical classroom buzz, making these areas great resources for students. In addition, the Lancer Way grading returned for its second year in action. Students were able to get prizes for following all criteria: be here, be involved, be respectful and be excellent. The fall academic season is full of many activities and academic work.

WINTER

Caelan Long, 11

The winter season brought snow and school spirit! With winter sports and activities in full swing, students spent time indoors to escape the cold, celebrate the holidays, and cheer on the Lancers. There was a new and overwhleming interest in Girl's Wrestling, resulting in two thirds of the team wrestling at the state competition. As Lancer sports teams demonstrated excellence, other activities also celebrated success. The Robotics Team placed first of twenty six teams in the area league and senior Nicole Blodig won a one thousand dollar scholarship for her excellence in technical theater at Iowa Thespian Festival. North Scott students also found ways to give back to their community. National Honors Society organized a blanket drive, served meals at a church, and read to kindergarteners across the district. The senior class cherished their final moments participating in their winter sports and activities, and moved on to their final semester of high school, preparing to leave their final mark as students at North Scott High School.

The Lady Lancers' hard work and determination was shown throughout the season. The teamwork among the group has brought many exciting victories. Presley Case, 12 remarks on the lessons she's learned throughout her high school basketball career. Presley said, "The past four years I've learned to never take the time in this program for granted because the friends and the memories are unforgettable." She also reflected on her favorite memory from this past season. "My favorite memory from this season had to be the team bonding and any time we spent together."

Uptown Dunk

North Scott's varisty boys basketball team had valuable new contributers to the starting line up: Landon Eiland, Carter Markham, and Cole Kilburg. Last year, Carter Markham was on JV and was moved up to be a starter on varsity this year. He said, "the biggest difference between this year and last year are the practices and being a part of the state experience." Returning starters, Ty Anderson, Sam Kilburg, and Trent Allard, have performed well in their larger roles this year. Ty Anderson and Sam Kilburg, who returned for their third year as varsity starters, averaged career highs for points and shot over 50% over the season, making more shots then they have missed. After asking Senior, Ty Anderson, what basketball has taught him over the last for years, he stated that "Basketball has taught me that staying together as a team can get you through just about any adersity faced, and that goes back to life too. Don't go through life alone, it will be a lot better with the right people surrounding you and fighting through tough times together." The boys work together to always improve and get through each game, creating a family.

Shooting For Success

The freshmen and junior varsity girls teams had quite a season. This year consited of combining teams and players in order to play. The girls came together and worked as a team to allow this concept to work. By being together in practices, games, and downtime, all the girls worked extremly hard and allowed the team to excel. This year is being considered one of the most successful seasons, with only 1 loss. Todd Satterly, the junior varisty coach, is very proud of this group of girls and their hard work. He describes this season as a challenger but says "the girls really all came together and had one of the most successful years ever. The girls blended well together and it has been a really great experince." Althouhg having setbacks by not having enough players, the girls adjusted and proved how determined Lancers are. As a Lancer we work hard to achieve our goals and have fun along the way. This is just what these teams did, they all practiced hard and worked as a team to finsih with a very successful season.

Order on the Court

The Lancer JV and Freshman Boys Basketball teams dominated the court this season. They dribbled their way to victory and swished the ball into the hoops, scoring numerous times. Both teams played hard, and their teamwork and dedication to the game was rewarded with many wins. Drew Kilburg, a freshman on the JV basketball team, can be seen holding the ball away from the other teams players (picture below). He had a great season and had a lot of playing time. Kilburg along with the other members of the team worked together to win games and dominate the court during their 2019-2020 season.

Lancer Productions' winter straight show challenged theatre students to broaden their acting capabilities. The Boys Next Door tells the story of the lives of four people with mental disabilities living in the same household. Jack Palmer, played by Owen Popelka, 11, is the caretaker of Arnold Wiggins (Eliot Morrow, 10), Norman Bulansky (Mitchell Smith, 12), Lucien P. Smith (Kellie Costello, 10), and Barry Klemper (Drew Dowda, 12). This show explored different levels of mental disabilities such as autism and schizophrenia. It introduced audience members to the world of Jack Palmer as he manages the emotions and situations brought to their lives everyday. Actors were challenged to take on serious roles and topics much different than Lancer Productions' shows in the past. Jenna DeNoyer, 12, said, "Being one of the student directors for this show was one of the best experiences ever. The cast did an amazing job portraying such an amazing message and story. Working with them has been the best." Along with Jenna DeNoyer, Briley Larson also student directed this show. The cast's hard work and determination paid off with free coffee and donuts after every show.

Pin it to Win it

This years North Scott Wrestling team included a variety of athletes all participating at the same competitive level. From freshmen all the way to previous state qualifying seniors, the team came together to train hard and become what junior, Josh Connor said is, "A family." Connor's third year in the program led him to the true meaning of what "team" is. Connor said, "This year, we really came together to train hard and improve as a team and as a family". The wrestling team had many accomplishments this year including many titles in the MAC. Senior, Zach Campbell, a previous state qualifying wrestler, explained his teams achievments, "The team had a great season. We had 7 individual MAC titles. It is always a great time on the mat". Campbell helped lead his team to be MAC champs for the third time in the four years he has been in the program. But behind every great team, is a even better coach. Coach Drew Kelly did not go unnoticed this year, as he was rewarded the title of MAC coach of the year. This years North Scott Wrestling team was well rounded in all counts including coaching, staff, and the athletes themselves. As the younger wrestlers continue to grow, the program will as well. This One is For the Girls

The wrestling team gained a new addition this year. A total of 22 girls went out for the first girls wrestling team. The team was led by Coach Kelly and Coach Straeley. The girls wrestling team started a new legacy for North Scott female students. A few teammates had previous experience in wrestling, karate, and Brazilian Jiu Jitsu, while others had no previous experience but wanted to try something new. Team captain, Maia Glover, 12 had been a part of a Brazilian Jiu Jitsu studio before, gaining her blue belt mid-wrestling season. Her strength in Jiu Jitsu motivated her to join wrestling and it reflected in her matches. Maia competed at both state tournaments. Alongside Maia, other team captain Kara Rohlf, 11, competed at both state tournaments as well, winning a match at state. Kara said, "I think that we not only grew as individuals who were all trying to learn all of the crazy rules and moves within the sport, but as a team who realized that the hard work we were putting into this team was building the foundation for a bigger and better team in the future." Kara continued to say, "We definitely weren't great at the beginning of the season, but as we got closer to state we put in more work and time to succeed in our matches. Many girls walked away with not only medals around their necks, but new friendships within the team." Although the majority of the team was new to the sport, the girls competed well to leave a legacy for future female wrestlers in years to come.

Striking To Perfection

The girl's and boy's bowling teams finished off another successful season. The girls had won two tournaments back to back and they had a 5-2 record. There were two girls who made it onto the MAC All-Conference Teams but they had missed going to the State level by 48 points, according to Grace Bjustrom. The boys had a good run this year even though they didn't do as well as the girls but they still gave it their all. Each team worked really hard, especially in practice. Jason Apple said, "Both [coaches] kept watching all of us closely and critiqued every little thing, from our form to the oil that was on the lane. It was very nice having someone watch and stop you when it was needed to show you how to make it better." Overall, having great coaches leads to great players and an amazing season. Which is exactly what the girls and boys teams had.

Time Warp

The Iowa State Thespian Festival for theatre troupes across the Iowa. The festival is held at the University of Northern Iowa. This year, Lancer Productions had many individual events compete along with Tech Challenge. Nicole Blodig, 12, was 1 of 3 seniors who received a scholarship from the International Thespian Society. She received the Iowa Thespians Technical Theatre Scholarship for going into a theatre career. Ethan Jost and Kara Rohlf placed 1st in Tech Challenge for Leg a Platform. The JV tech challenge team received 3rd place overall out of all the teams that competed. Joie Stoefen, 12, served as the Iowa Thespian chapter board chair for the past year. She was 1 of 8 students who represented Iowa thespians to the International Thespian Board. Joie's leadership took a big part in planning the festival. She says "Planning the festival was a huge responsibility to take on. Everyone on the student board had specific areas to take care of, and I was mostly in charge of making sure everyone felt like they knew what they were doing. I had to help prep for future STO interviews, write the opening script, and decide on T-shirt colors. There are a lot of different aspects you have to consider in a very minimal amount of time. It was definitely all about the details and how we could offer the best Iowa Thespian Festival yet. There was a lot of late nights and stressful times, but in the end, it was so incredibly worth it."

All Strings Attached

This year brought exciting new music and learning experiences for the North Scott Orchestras. The Junior Varsity Orchestra conquered new techniques working through etude books and challenging music. The Varsity Orchestra on the other hand was challenged with a Level 5 piece called "Perseus". This piece pushed the violin section to shift into higher positions, player higher notes and challenged the orchestra to different rhythms and faster tempos. In addition, the Varsity Orchestra also got the opportunity to work with Quad City Youth Symphony director Ernesto Estigarribia in the beginning of February. Estigarribia worked with the orchestra on a slow, classical piece titled "Nimrod". Working with Estigarribia kick started new energy and efforts in the Varsity Orchestra. Meanwhile the Junior Varsity worked away at a new Vivaldi piece at the spring concert, preparing these musicians for any new style or composer they want to play. The two orchestras were very successful this year and put in lots of hard work to perform well!

There are five jazz musical groups at North Scott. Two jazz bands: Jazz 1, directed by Mr. McMann, and Jazz 2, directed by Mr. Collins. As well as two jazz bands, our music department flourished this year with three jazz choirs: 3318, directed by Mr. Skyles, and Bit of Treble and 200 South, under the direction of Mrs. Potts. Both jazz bands performed at NIU Jazz Day and SEIBA Jazz and worked with clinicians to better understand the meaning of jazz music. Along with the jazz bands, the jazz choirs traveled and performed at Iowa City Liberty High School and State Jazz Choir which was hosted by North Scott. By: Delaney Coffman, 10

Blood Drive

North Scott High School has been doing the blood drive for 21 years. Every year North Scott sets a goal to donate blood. This year, the Student Service Club goal was to have 109 students to donate blood. At the end of the day we received 128 donors that day, which was some of football players and other athletes. We had 22 deferrals and 3 donors that did doubles ,plus one plasma only, and we also had 53 first time donors. During the blood drive, The Student Service Club donated the money they raised for the local food bank in Eldridge. The blood drive is an event for the North Scott Lancers to help people in the community. The person in charge of the blood drive is Mr. Wood. Students and teachers can also donate there blood as well. Students at the age of 16 years old can sign up to donate their blood for others in need. The blood goes straight to the Mississippi Valley Regional Blood Center. North Scott High School does two blood drives each school year. The second blood drive gives students a second chance to donate their blood to the hospital. When students donate there blood, they are happy to help others in the Quad Cities.

Helping Others

FCCLA

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America. This is what FCCLA stands for and the students who participated in this club the past year helped others through service. The students were invloved in many activities such as making caramel apples for the teachers during Halloween, making chocolate covered strawberries for the custodians and office ladies, and packing lunches for kids at Neil Armstrong. Shea Nelson, who coordinated packing the lunches for the Neil Armstrong students, explained "Through FCCLA I coordinated a project that provided food packages to some students at Neil Armstrong. My goal was to provide those students with food after school hours." The students who helped Shea pack the lunches (seen below) were excited to help her make the students at the elementary happy. Throughout the past year the students involved in FCCLA brought joy to many people by being dedicated to the service and happiness of others. The leaders of FCCLA Suzanne Lehn and Alysse Mancuso, who teach the FACS classes, did a fantastic job of leading the activities the club has participated in. The club served their school and community this past year and lived up to the legacy of the FCCLA club.

Lancers Love to Serve!

The Lancer students love to serve their community and many are involved in Service Club, a club dedicated to helping others through volunteer work. The students involved in Service Club have helped many people over this past year by giving up their free time to volunteer at food pantries, nursing homes, to hang with kids with special needs, and so much more! Emilia Hughes, a senior, says "My favorite thing about service club is that it connects high school students to service groups around the community like the North Scott Rotary and the Lions Club. These groups set a great example for us, and help us get involved with new service projects." The members became connected to their community this past year with events like stadium cleanups, the Happy Joe's Special Needs Christmas Party and the blood drive. At the Happy Joe's special needs Christmas party, the students involved in the event dressed up as characters (seen below) to surprise the kids with special needs coming to the event. The students brought lots of joy to the kids which is the main goal of the club! Service Club spreads positivity and smiles while assisting others this year, leaving an impactful legacy for years to come.

Art Club

Following a monthly theme, Art Club this year has been a lot more involved in introducing new students to different forms of art, as well as exposing them to a multitude of different projects than previous years. The monthly themes were planned out from the beginning of the year, allowing for students to be notified ahead of time what they would be able to work on during Art Club on Friday afternoons. This year, we had introduced screen printing and figure drawing through brand new sessions of being able to practice with real life models, as well as printing designs we had created onto shirts. During the month of October, we had also gone on a group field trip to the Figge Museum, in which we had experienced a figure drawing class for the first time as a group, as well as being able to have our portfolios reviewed by colleges all around the state of Iowa. December followed the theme of decorating, allowing for students to come in and help design cookies, cakes, and plenty more as we dedicated all of our time to relaxing and enjoying our time together. Art Club brings out a very comforting, homelike environment to help everybody feel comfortable as they spend their time together, making us one big family.

Guild of Gears

North Scott Robotics has made enormous progress from the last season by building up the team, involving the community and putting in hours of hard work and dedication. This season, we made it to the Iowa championships, winning two awards along the way. The Connect Award says that we go out and involve our community and the Think Award is for our amazing engineering notebook. I am so proud of where we got this year and am looking forward to next season!

iJAG is a program designed to help prepare students for their future careers. This is a class offered at North Scott to juniors and seniors, led by Ms. Frisk. Mikayla Bagdonas, 12, an iJAG officer said, "It has helped me become a more of an open person, and more confident when I'm talking to others." During the class, iJAG students take multiple field trips to different career fairs to expand their knowledge. This allows students to explore real job oppurtunies in the workplace, and develop interests for future careers. Seven students are elected by their peers to represent iJAG and North Scott when they go to different events. Those officers include, Mikayla Bagdonas, 12, Denise Bomar, 12, Landon Songer, 11, Kiara Mclemore, 12, Jenna DeNoyer, 12, Sebastion Rinehart, 11, and Muriah Colson, 12.

The 2019-2020 season for the North Scott swimmers was been nothing short of amazing. Both the girls and guys teams performed great at their conference meets, this year with everyone swimming faster than ever. There is a total of ten North Scott students on the Pleasant Valley swim team. Senior Jordan Neymeyer said that overall it has been a fast season with some season bests. When asked about how NS swimmers are treated by PV swimmers, Jordan said "everyone has always been very welcoming I had a fun time swimming with them all four years that I have been on the team. "She is also the co-captain of the girls swim team. Brett Little, 12, is a co-captain of the boys team. He says "swimming is one of the best things that I have ever done. I encourage anyone to go out for the swim team." Both swimmers plan to continue swimming career. Brett Little plans on going to Valparaiso University in Indiana. Jordan Neymeyer plans to continue her swimming career at Hope College in Michigan.

FFA Makes Mooves

Leadership: something Grace Bjustrom, senior at North Scott High School knows too. As President of the North Scott FFA Chapter, Grace has many responsibilities to keep her team in line. Though she works hard for her chapter, Grace insists that everyone in the chapter is equal, and they all work hard. Grace said, "In FFA, everyone is there for each other. We care about the success of every individual and want the best for everyone. Our family extends from seventh graders up to seniors. Although a wide span of ages, we are proudly connected by our blue corduroy jackets with “North Scott” printed on the back." Though her time in FFA is coming to an end Grace will always remember the fun memories she made during the time in FFA, and the skills that will help her in years to come. "FFA provides all members with life long skills that make us ideal candidates for future employment and community involvement. I am thankful for the knowledge, skills, and opportunities FFA has provided, and for the organization introducing me to the career of my dreams as an agricultural engineer. Even after my corduroy blue jacket goes into retirement this summer, it will always remind me of everything FFA has given me."

Pitch Perfect

The 2019 baseball season was full of new beginnings. The team worked hard and persevered even through hard times. The varsity team lost many of their senior starters, who went on to continue their baseball careers. Despite losing these players, other teammates stepped up to take on a bigger role. The Lancers, with plenty of experienced players returning, look forward to having an even better 2020 season Many of these players have been together for many years, creating friendships on and off the field. These relationships help the team survive. The seniors on the 2020 team shared many memories throughout the years, and without a doubt will create more this season. They look forward to unveil the potential they hold and create memories to cherish as a Lancer forever.

Laying Down the Law

The North Scott mock trial team laid down the law this year at their competition. This year the mock trial case was a criminal case and was based upon an art theft, which was called Taylor Gates vs. the State of Iowa. The team had to portray both sides of the case, defense and prosecution. For the side of prosecution the members had to prove that Taylor Gates, the defendant, was guilty of first degree theft, while the side of defense had to prove that Taylor Gates was not guilty. All of the members of the mock trial team worked hard, whether they played a part of a witness or an attorney. Sydney Newberry, a junior on the mock trial team who has been involved for three years, said, "The case was very interesting this year and the team worked together really well, I'm glad to be a member of the team. We all put in a lot of effort this year." The team had ten dedicated members who worked around other activities to put in the time to be a devoted member of the team. The group was coached by Erin Jenkins, the TAG teacher at the high school and junior high, who was committed to helping the team achieve success and perfect their roles. Although they did not advance to the next round, the team worked very hard and put lots of effort into carrying out their roles with confidence during the competition.

Breaking Barriers

Over the summer, North Scott History Day students triumphed at the national competition in Washington D.C., celebrating last year's theme "Triumph and Tragedy" with students from across the world. Students Jenna Willet and Hannah Belk placed 9th in the nation for Senior Group Performance and Dylan Engelbrecht placed 4th in the nation for his Senior Individual Exhibit, also winning the Iowa Outstanding Entry Award in the Senior Division. This year, History Day students began researching topics under the theme "Breaking Barriers" and creating exhibit boards, documentaries, websites, papers, and performances. At the St. Ambrose District Competition, students shared their projects for judges and many advanced to the state competition. Though students celebrate their success at competitions, they compete with the mindset that "everyone is a winner in History Day." Students create projects with the goal to learn something new. Sharing their knowledge and teaching others something new is the ultimate goal of History Day. Elle Loehr, 9, stated "The best skill I've learned from History Day is persevering, even when things don't go your way at first." Students not only learn to research and present their information, they learn life skills. Vianne Jackson, 9, described the most valuable skill she learned from History Day as "hard work and team work." History Day students make all kinds of valuable connections including Maddy McNealey, 10, who stated "I think it's a great way to reach out and meet new people." Dylan Engelbrecht, 10, agreed, explaining the goals of the program: "History Day is a sense of family, and getting to work with lots of people with common interests in order to create a great project." The Cardiac Kids!

This summer, North Scott's softball team did not go unnoticed, as they were known around the community as the cardiac kids. If you were around this summer, you would know exactly why. The close games created fast heart rates for Lancer fans, giving the team the title of "The Cardiac Kids." The motto "Work Now, Rest Later" rippled throughout the season with the girls. The summer came with close games, and new accomplishments as these girls gave Assumption their one, of two losses this season. Junior Kinsey Newman said, "I had so much fun with these girls and I am excited to see what we can accomplish in the upcoming years". Senior, Brooke Kilburg knew the key to this season and explained it by saying, "We never gave up, and we took it one pitch at a time". Kilburg also went on to say that she and her team were not yet satisfied with the way they finished the season, even though she said it was an amazing accomplishment and experience all around. For the MAC, the team placed 4th, behind two state champion teams. North Scott softball finished with a 28-15 record, which was definitely something to show forth all of the hard work from these girls during the summer.

New Places

This year North Scott School welcomed two Foreign Exchange Students. Hanin Youfafi from Lebanon, and Clara Ordejon Alonso from Spain. When asked what their favorite food was, Hanin stated, “I love all kinds of sweet stuff that I got to have from cookies, to pies, to pastries, to new flavors of ice cream.” Clara says, “Some of my favorite foods are s’mores, french fries, and Atomic for coffee or energy drinks.” School and lifestyle in America is different according to Clara, but Hanin disagrees and says that it isn’t as different as people think. Clara’s most favorite experience in America was homecoming and prom. Hanin says her favorite experience was the first day of school and meeting her host family for the first time. Overall, these foreign exchange students have enjoyed their time spent here and have made many memories with their host families that will last.

Student Government

Student Government is a student run group that helps to make everyone's high school experience great. North Scott's Student Government worked very hard to improve student life and help benefit the community. Lauren Hanssen, 12, who has been a part of student government for all four years of high school, explained that Student Government has achieved many goals. Lauren stated, "We've implemented a few new fun events for students, like Powderbuff and hopefully more to come." The students have created new events this school year and improved current ones. But, student government not only plans our school events, they work to improve student life. Lauren said, "I think people should know that Student Government doesn't just plan stuff. While we do that a lot, we also try to take into acccount concerns of students and faculty to make the school the best it can be." Great efforts are made by the students in attempts to improve North Scott High School. By: Khloe Beitzel, 12

Treasured Tuesdays

Every Tuesday morning, North Scott Students are able to join Mrs. Unwin's class for Treasured Tuesdays. They interact with their peers by either playing games, painting nails, or going on walks throughout the halls. It brings laughter and joy for Mrs. Unwin's students and for the students who dedicated their time to attend that morning. Treasured Tuesdays started about 9 years ago. Mrs. Unwin says that she had a cousin with severe and profound intellectual and physical disabilities that attended another school. No one would approach her because they didn't know how. "I wanted more for my students and wanted to educate students in the general education about how they are still a person that wants the same things as everyone else. I worked closely with student government and together we came up with the idea of Treasured Tuesdays!" Mrs. Unwin touches on how Treasured Tuesdays impacts her students and she stated, "Treasured Tuesdays is one of the students favorite times during the week. They love to play games with students that are their age rather than always work with the adults in their classroom. It has helped the students become more accepted and less feared throughout the school."

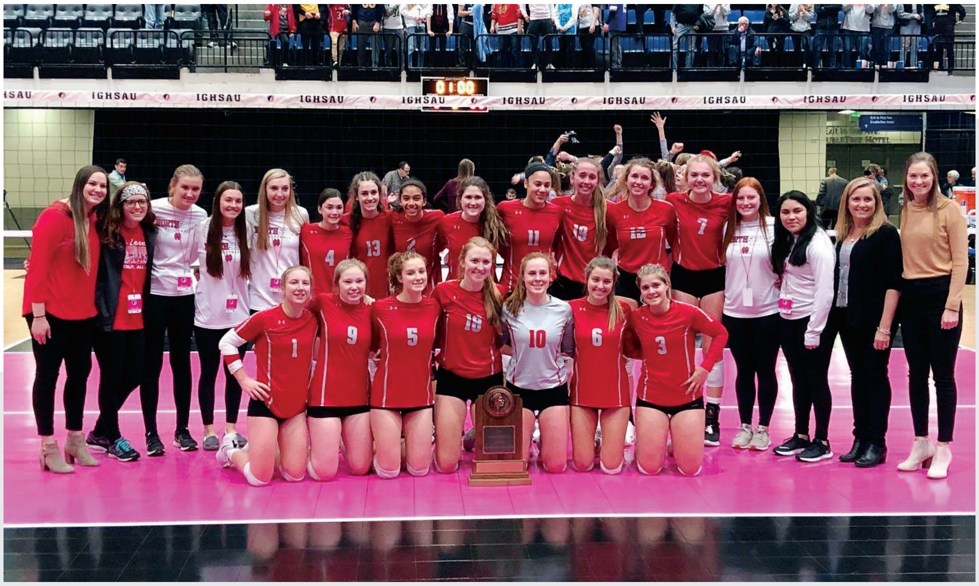
The Silver Shakers competed three dances at the Iowa State Dance Team Association competition this year. The categories the team competed in were Jazz, Pom and Lyrical. The group walked away from the state competition with 2nd place in Jazz and 3rd place in Pom.



The Girls Volleyball team finished with a 28-6 season. They qualified the team for state. The team placed 3rd in the state. The 28 wins were the third best scores in North Scott History. Although the outcome was not as they hoped, the team shares memories that will last a lifetime.

This year the boys state wrestling team had 7 boys qualify for state. Trace Gephart, Peyton Westlin, Cael Bredar, Josh Connor, Deven Strief, Jake Matthaidess and Zach Campbell. Overall, the team placed 4th in the state.

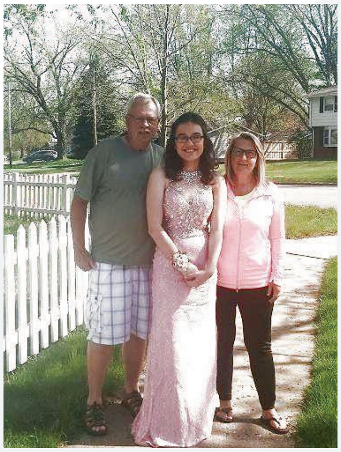
Wow our first grandchild is graduating from high school! Where has the time gone? We as your Granny and Papa have had the privilege of watching you grow into a beautiful, smart, talented and loving young woman who about to start a new journey. Remember, you can do anything you set your mind to. We will be right behind you, encouraging you all the way.
Love you, Granny & Papa



Our Carina, Goodbye high school! There were good times and bad times, and we rode that roller coaster with you. Now it's time to open a new chapter, and you get to be the author. Someday you'll look back at these pages and think about the people and events that shaped your high school experience. But now it's time for something new, and as your biggest fans, we can't wait to see what happens next! We'll always think of you as our little girl, even as you grow into a beautiful and strong woman right before our eyes. Stay sweet, stay fierce, and most importantly, stay you! We love you so much and we're so proud of you! Love, Mom, Dad &amp; Steve

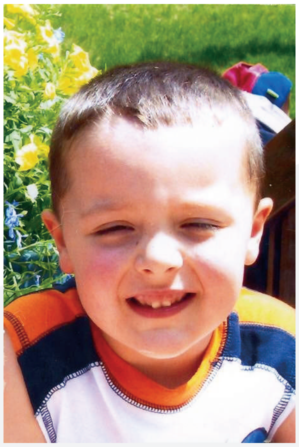
Dear Nathan, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven." Matthew 5:16
May you always shine wherever you go!
Love, Dad, Mom, & Gretchen

Megan-
The days have flown since that first day of kindergarten until now. From the start, you have done things your way, on your path. The path has not always been the smoothest. It has had its share of triumphs, smiles, loss and tears. Through it all you have persevered and now have made it to the end of this first journey. You did it!
We are so proud of you -
Congratulations Graduate!
Love, Mom, Dad, Allie, Kayla and Alaina

Jaydon,
The day you made us parents was the best day of our lives. You are our miracle and blessing! We are beyond proud of you! You have so much drive & determination to succeed at whatever you put your mind to! The future is yours and looks so bright! Never stop being the fun, talented and loving person that you are and always dream! Congratulations Bud!
We Love You, Your Biggest Fans, Mom & Dad



Nickolas, We know how hard you have worked, and you always has succeeded. Nick you have had some tough times in your life, but that never has stopped you. Keep doing what you have always done, work hard, be respectful and always do the right thing. Dad, Alex and Emilee

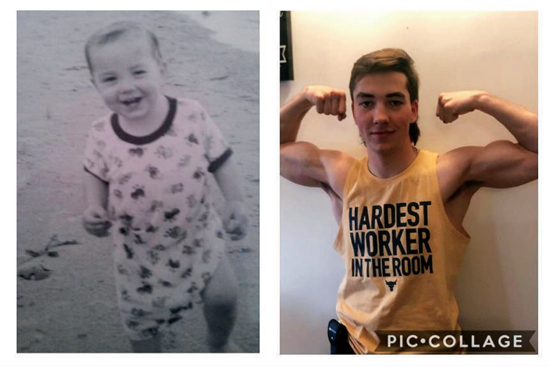
Grace you have grown from our sweet baby girl into a beautiful young lady inside and out. From day one you have loved life and learning. From preschool to your senior year we have watched you grow and you have made us so proud! Life is short- Live everyday as if it were your last. Love everyone. And always remember mom and dad will be here cheering you on from the sidelines!

Enjoy the ride and
God Bless You!!
Love, Mom and Dad

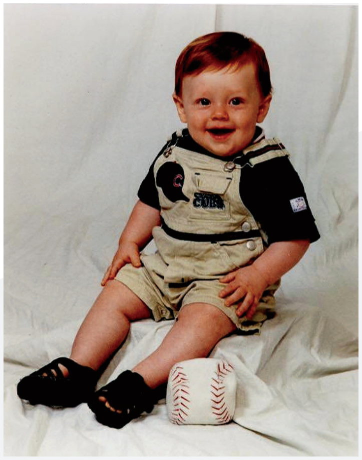
If I had to pick just one word to say about you, it would be "true". You are all things that word stands for ; forthright, reliable and sincere in everything you do. I couldn't be more proud. Stay firm in your beliefs, grow in wisdom and never compromise who you are for any job, any person and mostly yourself. Here's to procrastination, sleeping in and no more detentions!

I love you forever....to the moon and back......to infinity and beyond.
Ephesians 3:14-21

Friendships that will last a lifetime - congrats ladies!
Love, Your Moms
P.S: Don't eat Tide Pods!



HARDEST WORKER IN THE ROOM
PIC•COLLAGE



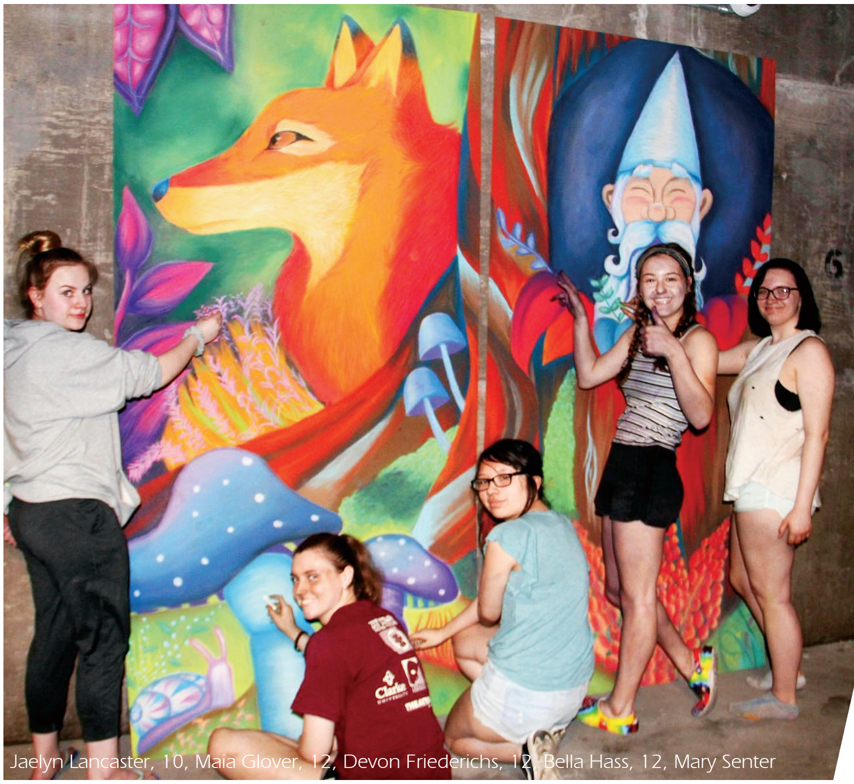
To our little Will,
You have blessed our lives. May God continue to bless you and direct you in every adventure that comes your way.
Love, Dad, Mom, Rose, Matt and Rizzo

To Molly, our dedicated hard working yearbook editor. Thank you so much for your talent, long hours of service, and making this a unique yearbook. I know your family and peers are very proud!!
Thank you from, yearbook staff, classmates, and Mrs. Mess- I know your talent will take you far....

True Colors!
Pastel Competition

North Scott's pastel competition won first place this year out of ten area high schools that met early on a Saturday morning to have fun and show their art teamwork skills. The art team came prepared after spending time talking about their designs and choosing Maia Glovers colorful whimsical scene to create. The colorful nature life, the details of the foxes fur and whiskers, along with how they impressed the judge with their enthusiasm and teamwork landed them the first place check, of money donated to their art department. This money will be used to create more murals on our school walls.

I am very proud, Michele Mess - Art Instructor



Jaelyn Lancaster, 10, Maia Glover, 12, Devon Friederichs, 12, Bella Hass, 12, Mary Senter

Jaelyn Lancaster to the right said "The pastel competition enhanced my teamwork skills. It gave me the opportunity not only to work together with my peers but look at other schools thinking processes in this competition. I was very grateful to be a part of this. I was also honored with being at the awards ceremony when we won the first place award."

NORTH SCOTT HIGH SCHOOL

Last year, I watched Ben Leik and Grace Coffman change the entire meaning of the yearbook. The change between the 2018 and 2019 book was so drastic it left me wondering if I was even capable of following up something like that. I wasn't confident that I could make it different. The first challenge I had was deciding a theme. I knew the theme would have to have a purpose. I picked Legacy because I knew it would have a deeper meaning for myself, the senior class, and the North Scott community. SJ's legacy became pretty memorable in my mind. It made me think about my purpose at North Scott and how I was leaving an impact. I realized my legacy was this yearbook. I want people to go through this book and think "what is my legacy to North Scott?" We as students do things everyday that impacts the legacy of North Scott and ourselves. High School happens faster than we all think because were living in the moment. Here, in this book are some of the memories stopped in time.

I would like to thank my wonderful staff for going along with my ideas and working hard to make it to deadlines, Mikayla Carlton for not only being my best friend but also being my unofficial co- editor and telling me when I was wrong, Mrs. Mess for trusting me throughout this book and mentored me like no other person has, SJ Madden for being a friend and reminding me everyday how we impact one another, and you, yes YOU! You made these memories and made it possible for the book to be complete.

Lastly before I sign off officially I'm going to ask you one question:

"What is your legacy?"

Thank You
Molly Burgmeier

Spring

Shortly after North Scott students were released for Spring Break, there came an unexpected and unprecedented national tragedy: the COVID-19 pandemic. The school year was finished online as students and staff underwent local, state, and national quarantine restrictions. Teachers adapted their curriculum while students completed assignments and tests from home. Though most Spring activities were canceled, thespians celebrated an induction through social distancing and an online Judy Awards, National History Day competitors submitted projects virtually, and seniors began making preparations for their future. All of this was done while staying inside to prevent the spread of COVID-19 and to keep safe from deadly murder hornets. Amidst one national emergency arose another. The murder of George Floyd sparked national outrage and a surge in the Black Lives Matter movement. North Scott students, among many others across the country, shared information about police brutality on social media, donated to charities, signed petitions, supported local black owned businesses, participated in Blackout Tuesday, marched in protests, educated themselves, listened, and loved. After many days filled with family walks, Outer Banks, Tik Tok, procrastination, and FaceTime, the school year ended unconventionally. Seniors celebrated graduation with their close family from inside their cars, decorated with signs and balloons. After watching a live-streamed graduation video, students toured Eldridge for a celebratory parade. Though the school year didn't end as expected, North Scott students have a legacy of making the most of every situation no matter how unexpected, unprecedented, or unconventional.

State of Emergency

Cut It Down

Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell explains the emergency interest rate cut established March 3. In a rare emergency move, the Federal Reserve cut rates a full percentage point to reach 0.25%. This was in response to increased threats to the economy and financial markets.

Watching the Market

A trader on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange tracks a historic nosedive caused by COVID-19 fears. The fallout from COVID-19 led to a wild ride on the stock market, including the Dow's nosedives on March 12 and March 16 that triggered a temporary halt in trading. The federal government quickly moved to implement economic stimulus programs. Additionally, the trading floor was closed, and traders worked remotely starting March 23.

Solutions for Relief

- Student loan interest waived
- 90 day federal tax deferment
- Paid sick leave/family time
- Stimulus checks

Federal Response

President Donald Trump and Vice President Mike Pence walk from the Oval Office to the White House Rose Garden to declare a national emergency on March 13. The decision freed up $50 billion in federal resources to use to combat COVID-19. President Trump also announced he was waiving interest on student loans and purchasing more crude oil for the U.S. strategic reserve.

Plan of Action

Senator Cory Booker listens as Senator Kamala Harris shares their plans for legislation to ensure paid sick leave to deal with COVID-19. Several impactful pieces of legislation were proposed in the wake of the pandemic, including stimulus checks to Americans.

Staying Positive

Married celebrities Tom Hanks and Rita Wilson were among the first public figures diagnosed with COVID-19. During their quarantine in Australia, Hanks shared uplifting messages via social media like, "Thanks to the Helpers. Let's take care of ourselves and each other."

Other public figures to contract the virus:

- Actor Idris Elba and Frozen II actress Rachel Matthews
- Sophie Grégoire Trudeau, wife of Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau
- Utah Jazz players Rudy Gobert and Donovan Mitchell
- U.S. Senator Rand Paul

Testing Shortage

Richard Drurant waits in his car as medical staff run tests for COVID-19 at a drive-up facility in West Palm Beach, Florida. Testing availability varied depending on time and placement, and the United States initially faced a shortage of testing kits. In areas hard-hit by the virus, drive-up testing was used as a means for diagnosing COVID-19 while minimizing its spread.

Travel Bans

International travelers arrive at Los Angeles International Airport. Starting in January, President Trump restricted U.S. entry of foreign nationals who had recently traveled to China, where the virus originated. Travel restrictions were expanded to include Europe on March 13 and the U.K. and Ireland on March 16.

Girls Softball

The North Scott Seniors on the softball team in the 2020 year, were committed to getting to play their last season. Rachel Anderson was determined to complete her 5th year on varsity. All of these girls left a huge impact on the Legacy of the North Scott Lancers. All four seniors will go on to play college softball, proving the strength of the 2020 senior class.

Boys Baseball

The North Scott Seniors on the baseball team in the 2020 season were determined, dominating, and talented. Jake Matthaidess and Graysen Drezek will both be continuing their baseball careers at Kirkwood, with Layne Hamann continuing at Black Hawk. The eight seniors started when they were just ten years old, and thankfully, they received a final year in the North Scott baseball program.

One Shot at a Time!

Rising to the to, Lancer Archery has grown over the past three years despite the challenges that came with a new season and new archers. There were 60 individuals who participated, which is triple from last season. The team got the chance to host two home tournaments as well as having 24 archers go to the state level to represent North Scott once again. Senior archer Ivory Butler says, "State was a shock and an awe moment, just being able to go to state feels amazing to be next to some of the best archers in Iowa." But one of the most bittersweet moments is when the team set aside their differences and came together to support one another; from the bus rides, to the tournaments, to cheering each other on in the stands. Short Run for Track Season

As covid came into play, the boys track season ended abruptly, but that did not stop the way they competed before the pandemic. The boys ran, jumped, and threw, and competeed to the best of their ability in the St. Ambrose meet. The boys came out strong, and finished with a second place metal. They stood proudly on the podium. The sophomores, who were hungry for more, are anxious to finish what they started at the unexpected ending of their season this year. The seniors had to say goodbye to track a little early, but their younger teamates are ready to come back stronger, after the pandemic concludes.

Girl's
Senior Highlights

This year, the girl's track season was cut short due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However, many of these skilled track athletes will carry the memories made with them. When asked about her favorite track memory, senior Brooke Kruse says, "My favorite memory during my track career would be travelling to state the past 3 years with my teammates and breaking the school record in the sprint medley my junior year!" Many senior Lancer Track athletes have missed out on their final meets and moments, but many memories and records will be held in their hearts.

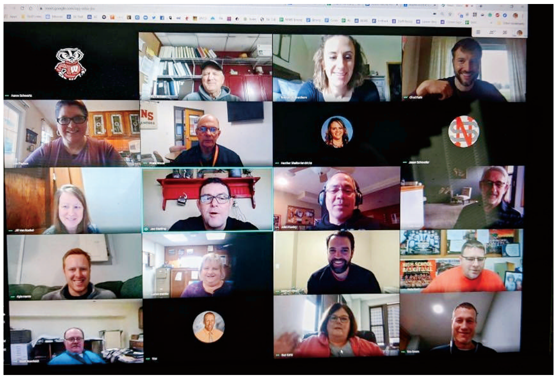
Unfinished Story

"For me, the end of the 2020 school year felt like an unfinished story, since we were unable to see students in person and do all of the normal things we do in the spring. I missed talking about spring break activities and celebrating Cinco de Mayo in Spanish class. It was like waiting for a show's sequel that was never produced and that would have wrapped up all the loose story lines and given us a sense of closure. I really missed seeing students on a daily basis, online meetings are not a good enough substitute for classroom interactions. Fortunately, the students were very understanding of the situation and knew that we were doing the best we could in the situation at that time" says Joni Kuehl-Schneider

Becky Edmundson says, "It was a sad end of the 2019-20 school year and I really missed the students & day to day school routines in my classroom. I was so proud of the overall students response to online elearning."

Many Meetings Zoom Zoom

Many meetings took place by all school staff members throughout the district to prepare for the new learning style. Everyone worked hard to help North Scott High School students complete the year's courses.



Scholarship, service, leadership and character

National Honors Society

Students who receive a cumulative GPA of 3.6 or higher are given the opportunity to apply for National Honors Society. Of the students who were able to apply for National Honors Society, only about 20% get selected to be a member of the club. National Honors Society is a prestigious organization that helps the members to maintain and enhance their qualities of character, service, scholarship and leadership. Throughout the year the members will participate in fundraisers, volunteer experiences and meetings while also maintaining high academic standards. Many people were sent an invitation to apply for National Honors Society this year, but the only some of the incoming Juniors and Seniors for next year got accepted. Congratulations to the new and reinstated members of National Honors Society for 2021: Juniors, Adam Allen, Mackenzie Bohr, Calla Brunkan, Luke Bullock, Ryan Campbell, Riley Collins, Savannah Connor, Kendall Deutmeyer, Caelan Engelbrecht, Ava Garrard, Clara Hanenburg, Taylor Mayhue, Kylie McCabe, Ella McLaughlin, Madison McNealey, Matt Mize, Madison Phipps, Caden Romero. Seniors, Aundrea Crain, Kylie Duhachek, Kaylee Gerardy, Sydney Hanna, Kate Hayes, Benjamin Hughes, Reagan Schoening, Kaitlyn Stick-Mueller, Baylor Verbrugge, Olivia Wessel, Madison Wiebel. Locked Up

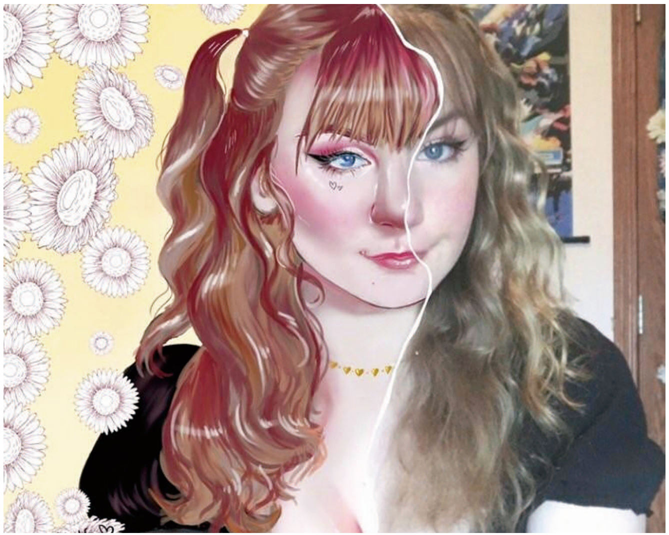
Shannon Moore, 12



Shannon Moore, 12

From having school cancelled for a couple weeks, all the way to the rest of the school year, quarantine has kept all students at home as we all try and adjust to these unprecedented time periods. Coming from two very different sides of the quarantine, a senior who had graduated early and one who had not, Shannon Moore and Carina Smith both provide how they feel about these trying times, especially through an artist's perspective. Both shared similar answers, describing how missing out on major art events, such as the Pastel Competition, is one of the saddest ways to end this school year considering the extensive time everybody spends to plan out a final piece together. Seniors especially are having a difficult time when missing out on these events because they help unite everyone on a team to create one last memorable year. Despite the absence of these major anticipated events, students are still making use of their creative abilities and continue to create.

"Thanks for the feedback, I think that would be a good place to define. I've been doing a lot of painting which is one of my favorite forms of art. (excited for 2D art) I have a lot to work on with all this free time." Grace Hamann, on-line art student working through canvas and emails with Mrs. Mess on artwork.

I am going to be working on that. I will talk to Mr Knoche and get in there and get stuff organized. Anyone that is not a senior may want to just wait until next year and we could continue I could be really flexible with class work and art club work on finishing art projects. Not sure yet I might put out a survey.
Don't worry though we will get it figured out.

YEARBOOK DISCLAIMER

The yearbook is the student-created publication of the North Scott Shield. The purpose of our yearbook is to tell the story of the year, and we strive for authenticity. While you may see photos of students or teachers not wearing a mask, you should know that we followed guidelines and social distancing to remain safe. Because we were not always able to take photos in the ways we normally would, some photos used in this yearbook were submitted by parents and students that may also have subjects who were not wearing masks or socially distanced. These photos are also part of the authentic story of the year, and we want to tell these students' stories rather than withholding their photos from the yearbook.

The North Scott Sheild yearbook is a student-created publication, and every effort was made to ensure it is objective and accurate. While this publication was thoroughly proofread and edited, we know mistakes happen. We sincerely apologize for any omissions, misspellings or other errors that occurred during this educational editorial process.

Throughout this challenging year, our goal was to support one another, and we thank you for understanding. In a year like no other, our student-created yearbook documented this year so we can look back and remember it in all its uniqueness.

Typically, students show off their style at the end of the year at prom. Though it wasn't possible to have a prom where students are kept six feet apart, many students were still excited about their prom dresses. Some shared their prom looks on social media and chose to celebrate from home, with a small group of friends, so they could dress up and get together one last time before they start their new ventures in life.

Mask Up!

Instead of prom dresses, masks became the new "style," for safety purposes of course. Not only did students creatively make their own protective masks for themselves, some students chose to dedicate their copious amounts of free time to making masks to donate to medical centers. Joie Stoefen, 12, helped her mom make masks for UnityPoint Health as a part of the Million Mask Challenge on Facebook. Stoefen stated, "The majority of the materials were donated by various people in the community—especially the breathable cotton fabric. Elastic straps or hair ties were used for the ear straps. It was a whole assembly line process in the QC. It was really cool." Joie also shared a photo of the mask she usually wears to work at North Scott Foods. While it wasn't quite the same as getting dressed up for prom, masks provided a necessary way for students to ensure safety and style.

Congrats Grads!

After an unexpected, unprecedented, and disappointing end to the school year, North Scott Seniors celebrated their accomplishments on May 31: a perfect day for a socially distanced graduation ceremony. Students anxiously awaited the parade with their families from their cars, decorated with signs and balloons, after watching a prerecorded ceremony featuring Principal Shane Knoche, North Scott Singers Seniors, and Summa Cum Laude speakers Joie Stoefen, Zach Campbell, Cameron LaPage, Jenna Willet, and Grace Sampson. After the ceremony, students threw their caps in the air in the High School parking lot and began the parade around Eldridge. The North Scott Community came together in a time of uncertainty to safely celebrate the graduating class.
